

Company Profile

FM-nøspy ...

is number one in Europe when it comes to professional counter-espionage!
It's team – headed by the Austrian expert for secured communication, Fred Maro - holds excellent reputation, even from very demanding clients.

- Fred Maro himself teaches at several German national security institutions and their academy. As a well-known author he published several accepted works about “social engineering” and interpersonal communication.
- Companies of all sizes and in 4 continents have confidence in the extraordinary activities and suggestions of FM-nøspy.
At present: Their smallest client company: 05 employees in 1 country
Their biggest client company: 350.000 employees in 12 countries
- Security consulting of FM-nøspy includes all major security topics as there are ...
 - ... analyzing possible dangers and “hot spots”
 - ... generating professional security concepts, for IT-systems as well as for the prevention of spy attacks using human-based-social-engineering.
 - ... installing professional safety processes
 - ... production of tailor-made motion pictures for awareness education
 - ... production and operation of tailor-made online learning programs
 - ... teaching and training tailor-made security awareness.
- It is one of the international very few teams, that are able to teach and train people of any cultural background and social level, in any language requested.
- Being experienced communication specialists they not only know about techniques and tricks of professional spies.
Their expertise enable them to motivate people in order to gain awareness and become important members of a “human firewall”.
This generates (a not to underestimate) important sustainability
